Obliged to Postpone His Visit to France Because of Prospect of Pope's Death.

CRISIS FOR HIS GOVERNMENT.

He Could Not Afford to Leave Capital Which Vatican Desires to Rule at a Time When New Pontiff May Be & hosen.

BY J. CORNELY.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. Paris, July 18.—(Copyright, 1901.)—The ill-Ness of the Pope and his approaching death have caused the postponement of the visit the King of Italy was about to make to Paris. This week the two Governments came to this understanding in order not to cause the Catholics of the two countries the sorrow of seeing public rejoicing coincident with their mourning.

This is a proof of tact and good taste Besides that, the King of Italy has an evident interest in being at home in his capital at a time when there will take place such an important event as the election of the head of the Catholic Church, who claims and contends with the Italians, for territorial possession of their capital.

Quirinal more secret ties than one would suppose, and consequently it becomes necessary at times that the master of the Quirinal should be there to put his finger n the springs that connect with the Vati-

This postponement of the trip has afforded fae Italian socialists an opportunity to give a good lesson to French socialists. The latter thought it would be agreeable to their Italian brethren to show their inten tion of refraining from every friendly dem-onstration toward the King. The Italian socialists replied that, outside of their own country, the King of Italy was their fellow-countryman and that they would feel flat-tered by any honors that he should receive. It would be, for that matter, a very sim ple thing never to permit political ideas to invade the domain reserved for patriotism But the French have a failing. They are too logical. They do not know how to hold themselves back at the proper time. That is why they are almost always doomed to pass from one excess to another.

AT PEACE WITH THE WORLD. Nevertheless, let us not complain too much of our lot just now. Here we are not only at peace, but coquetting with all the world. We stand very well with the auto-cratic Czar, and the liberal and charming King of England treats our President like an old comrade. The "Marsellinise" itself has been victoriously included in the port-folio of musicians of monarchical powers.

The journey of M. Loubet to London has considerably increased his prestige in Paris. This was easy to see last Tuesday on the occasion of the national holiday, when this grand man was received with enthusibam. And when one recalls that he came back from Versailles in showers of cabbage stumps and rotten eggs and that he was beaten with canes by members of clubs at Anteull, one is easily brought to consider the demonstrations of the Parisian populace in his honor as a retaliation of probity and reason. These pacific demonstrations, moreover, give to the Republic perfect solidity. France, wearied of wars which monarchies have forced on her, demands above all things peace for the Republic. The chief function of the Republic is peace, and as long as the Republic is peace, and as long as the Republic maintains it France will remain republican.

NEW MILITARY UNIFORM. At the review of the 14th of July, held I Andre mounted on his big horse, which browsed on the grass while the troops passed by, the Parisian populace saw a company of infantry which was wearing a new uniform suggested by the Boer War, the evident object of which is to render the soldier's life more agreeable. The Parisians did not give a good reception to the new uniform

We are still a militarist nation and sacrifice the individual well-being of the man to the design of the mass of which he is part. It is to this militarist conception that our fathers owed the hat of fur, and it is this which forces on us the shako, stift, hideous and inconvenient.

Meanwhile General Andre has entered on a political career. He has been elected a Councilor General at Genlis-Chamberty in the Cote d'Or. The same day a ministerial Deputy was elected at Bordeaux.
I forgot to say that for twenty years past people have been demanding that the re-view of the 14th of July should be held in the morning. This important reform was accomplished this year.

accomplished this year.

There has been unveiled near the Made-leine a statue of Jules Simon in white mar-ble. The chief use made of its inaugura-tion was to give opportunity to the op-ponents of M. Combes to discharge some ar-

SUPERFICIAL CANCER CURED BY RADIUM.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, July 18 .- (Copyright, 1903.)-At Charing Cross Hospital, Mr. Mackenzie Davidson, a well-known surgeon, has successfully treated a cancer case by means of radium. He has two other cases in hand, one at Moorefields, in which there is a happy promise of success also.

"I am experimenting," said Mr. Davidson I am experimenting," said Mr. Davidson, last evening, to a reporter for the Morning Leader, "and I am hopeful that radium has proved effective with superficial cancer. As to deep tumors I cannot sneak, and I should be very sorry to see false hopes raised. The whole matter is new and, as to deeper cancer cases, it would be premature to say anything.

"I am, as I have said, hopeful. "The Charing Cross case was one of ro-dent cancer of the nose—a superficial can-cer, that is to say. After unsuccessful treatment with the X-rays, the cancer was exposed for a short time to radium. Four exposures, taking about an hour altogether, were given at intervals of a few days. In three weeks the diseased part was healing satisfactorily, and in six weeks, with two of the nose the cancer had been. There is not a scar left.

"The Moorefields case is later, and there satisfactory progress, is being made. Remember, however," Mr. Davidson repeated, "that so far we have tackled only superficial cancer with this wonderful radium."

DOMINION'S INDEPENDENCE.

Tariff Treaty Between Germany Latter That Dominion Might Favor Mother Country.

HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, July 18 .- (Copyright, 1903.)-The production of the official correspondence between the British and German Governments on the subject of the German and Canadian prejudice and hatred against the German policy and German people. His chief instrument for this amiable purpose has been the supposed action of Germany in penalizing—or, to use plain English-punishing Canada for giving pref-erential treatment to the goods of the mother country. What are the facts? In May, 1865, when Lord Palmerston was Prime Minister and Lord John Russell Foreign Secretary, a commercial treaty was ratified between Great Britain and the German Zollvereinthere was then no German Empire—by which each Power undertook to give the other treatment of the most favored nation. If Mr. Balfour's theories were sound, this reaty would have been imposed, for since 1850 we had nothing to give and could only receive. It was, however, concluded and lasted for thirty-two years. It was binding upon all the British colonies which were hus regarded as integral parts of the Brit-

CANADA'S FISCAL INDEPENDENCE. The Dominion was desirous of giving preference to British goods, and in order that she might be enabled to do this, the Anglo-German treaty was denounced by Lord Salisbury's Government and came to an end the next year before Mr. Chamber-Canada was thus recognized for fiscal pur poses as an independent country entitled to make her own financial arrangements, as well with Berlin as with London thereupon, and, as a matter of course, she ceased by the automatic operation of the German law to receive the special favor which she had hitherto enjoyed, for the Germans, like other protectionists, have two tariffs, the lighter of which is reserved for those countries that take German goods on the mos favorable basis.

Lord Salisbury contented himself with formal protest, which Germany disregarded, failing back upon the provisions of her old law. Nothing was done till the present year, when Canada retaliated, as she was fully entitled to do, by imposing a surtax upon Where then is the grievance? Canada cannot have it both ways. Either she is an independent State, with the right of framing her own tariff or she is not.

If she is not, the treaty of 1865 was improperly denounced and she cannot give preference to British over foreign goods. If she is-or rather as she is-she must fight her own fiscal battles and the remedy is in her own hands.

That remedy she has adopted and she has no more right to complain of Germany than Germany has to complain of her.

ASTOUND BRITISHERS. PECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC.
